My dear Friend,

I have not
much to say, yet I think I should like to write thee a few lines by George Thompson & to thee how hopeful we are that thou mayst speedily see the fulfilment of thy heart's desire in the emancipation of every slave on your continent. There is still something to do, if only to watch & wait, for compromise is now ready to mar the work - but the work itself seems striding on at a rate we could not have anticipated four years ago. - George Thompson will tell you all about us here & I hope he may be with you to celebrate the jubilee - My mother sends her love & there thy wife & family in which I do, warmly join, and so does my dear father - he is rather feeble at present, but bright & cheerful - our love & all our abolitionist friends - I wonder if we shall ever see your faces in the flesh again! -

Thine ever affectionately and respectfully
Eliza Wigham
